JAPANESE PUBLICATIONS REQUIRED
(Cont'd)

Any service journals such as the military police magazine KENYU, which have continued publication.

Any pamphlets issued to explain the course of events to the public. These have often been issued by commercial publishers such as MORITA SHOBO (TOKYO), KONNICHINO-MONDAISHA, DAI MOJI SHOIN, presumably under government auspices.

Official gazettes (KAMPO & SHUHO) issued by the Cabinet Printing Bureau.

Publisher's guide to new publications issued in Tokyo for booksellers, etc. (name unknown).

Annual
publications:

ASAHI NENKAN
MAINICHI NENKAN

Latest edition of any other year books.

Note: A file of the ASAHI newspaper covering particularly the period of the surrender would be of considerable interest.
